

SCHOLARSHIP OF TEACHING AND LEARNING IDEA/PROJECT BRAINSTORMING SESSION

At Illinois State University, the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL) is defined as “the systematic study/reflection on teaching and learning [of our ISU students] made public.”

If you have a SoTL idea/project at any of the following stages, you are invited to this brainstorming session:

- Have an early idea for a possible SoTL project
- Have begun to design a SoTL project
- Are currently working on a SoTL project in progress

Participants will be divided into small groups and will talk through their projects and get ideas from others in the small group. Information on resources/support for SoTL on campus will also be shared.

DATE: Wednesday, September 17

TIME: 3:00 to 4:30 pm

LOCATION: Resource Commons, ITDC Building (CTLT)

Session Leader: Kathleen McKinney

Each participant will receive two books on SoTL. Refreshments will be served. Space is limited to twelve participants. Please RSVP (with a brief statement about the status of you SoTL idea/project) to sotl@ilstu.edu by Friday, September 12. Sponsored by the Cross Endowed Chair in SoTL.
