

SCHOLARSHIP OF TEACHING AND LEARNING (SoTL) WORKSHOPS FOR FACULTY – FALL 2016

At Illinois State University, we define SoTL as the “systematic reflection/study on teaching and learning [of ISU students] made public.” This definition was created to include a wide range of research (broadly defined) on the teaching and learning of our ISU students that is presented, published, created, or performed.

NEW for the Fall of 2016 – Intro AND Advanced Level SoTL Trainings

For Those New to SoTL – Intro to SoTL Workshops

This series of 2 workshops is designed to introduce attendees to SoTL, describe ways to engage in SoTL inquiry, and examine the benefits of SoTL as part of a productive research agenda. Examples of SoTL work will be provided. Resources to support SoTL work will be reviewed. These workshops have been designed for an audience with little to no prior experience with SoTL.

Participants must commit to attending both Intro to SoTL workshops in order to register for this opportunity. All participants present for both Intro to SoTL workshops will earn a $200 stipend. Light snacks and beverages will be provided. Please note any dietary restrictions when reserving your seat for these workshops. Door prizes will include SoTL texts and other SoTL resources.

Workshop 1: What is SoTL (September 29th from 12:30-2pm, ITDC Rm 103b)

Workshop 2: Developing a SoTL Project (November 10th from 12:30-2pm, ITDC Rm 103b)

Facilitator: Jennifer Friberg

For Those with SoTL Experience – Measuring Out-of-Class Learning

Have you set up learning experiences outside of the traditional classroom setting for your students but wonder what the impact of these experiences might be? Increasingly, faculty at ISU are utilizing out-of-class learning opportunities such as study abroad, service learning, and other civic engagement experiences to help students integrate, synthesize, and apply course-based learning. Learning via these pedagogies can be measured!! This workshop will help instructors conceptualize ways that a SoTL project could be used to determine the impact of out-of-class learning experience on student engagement and/or content mastery.

All participants attending this workshop will earn a $100 stipend. Light snacks and beverages will be provided. Please note any dietary restrictions when reserving your seat for the workshop. Door prizes will include SoTL texts and other SoTL resources.
