

SCHOLARSHIP OF TEACHING AND LEARNING (SoTL) WORKSHOPS FOR FACULTY – FALL 2017

At Illinois State University, we define SoTL as the “systematic reflection/study on teaching and learning [of ISU students] made public.”

This definition was created to include a wide range of research (broadly defined) on the teaching and learning of our ISU students that is presented, published, created, or performed.

For Those New to SoTL – Intro to SoTL

Do you have an interest in studying your students’ learning as a way to improve your teaching? The scholarship of teaching and learning (SoTL) is a type of scholarship that can help you expand your research to include systematic study of teaching and/or learning. This workshop is designed to introduce attendees to SoTL, describe ways to engage in SoTL inquiry, and examine the benefits of SoTL as part of a productive research agenda. Examples of SoTL work will be provided. Resources to support SoTL work will be reviewed. These workshops have been designed for an audience with little to no prior experience with SoTL.

All participants attending this workshop will earn a $125 stipend. Light snacks will be provided. Please note any dietary restrictions when reserving your seat for these workshops.
